

How to offer birds nesting material

- ×
- f
- 🐦
- in
- 🔗
- ✉

Cultivate a renewed sense of wonder about backyard birds when you provide natural, biodegradable, pesticide-free nesting materials.
(Photo: Ben Mullins via Unsplash)

When spring arrives, you can cultivate a renewed sense of wonder about backyard birds.

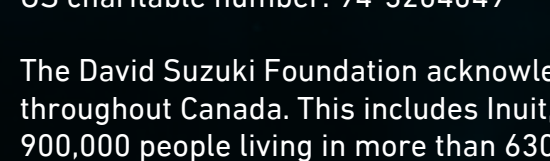

Attract birds with nesting material! It will complement other rewilding efforts like pollinator-friendly gardening, erecting a bee home and planting a butterfly garden.

From hanging nests to cup nests and those hidden inside man-made bird houses, they all need a combination of twigs, dried grasses, moss, hair, mud and even spider webs.

Ways to give   Contact us   Media

Careers   Privacy

Canadian charitable number: BN 127756716RR0001
US charitable number: 94-3204049

The David Suzuki Foundation acknowledges Indigenous Peoples throughout Canada. This includes Inuit, Métis and more than 900,000 people living in more than 630 First Nations communities, and in cities and towns across these lands.

© 2023 David Suzuki Foundation. Website by Briteweb

SCIENCE AND LEARNING CENTRE

VIEW MORE →

JOIN OUR EMAIL COMMUNITY

Enter email ▶